The 9th of December, 1912, will be the centennial of the birth of the Rev. James H. Thornwell, D. D., LL. D., a son of this Synod, who spent his whole ministerial life in our bounds, and who rendered most eminent service to our Church in defining her theological views, and in expounding, organizing, and applying her ecclesiastical polity. Therefore,

Resolved, That the Synod during its sessions in 1912 make appropriate celebration of this noteworthy centennial; and that a committee of three be now appointed by the Moderator to make the necessary arrangements for this celebration, and report to the next meeting of Synod.

The Moderator appointed the following as the committee: Rev. Drs. T. H. Law and E. P. Davis and Elder H. E. Ravenel.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures presented the following report, which was coupled with a cordial invitation from the Clinton churches to hold the next meeting in the first church of that town, and was adopted by a rising vote:

The Committee on Bills and Overtures would respectfully report:

Two overtures came into our hands from the two Presbyteries of Bethel and Charleston. In substance they are practically identical, and are as follows:

Desiring that the whole Synod should be aroused to united, intelligent and vigorous effort for the upbuilding of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, the two Presbyteries overture the Synod in session at Newberry:

(1) To choose Clinton as the place of meeting in the fall of 1911.

(2) In case Clinton is chosen as the place of meeting, that the Synod appoint a committee, two from the faculty of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, and three from the Board of Trustees of said institution, to arrange a program to bring before the Synod the importance, needs and prospects of the college, and that the second day of the meeting of Synod, or as much of it as may be deemed sufficient, be set apart for the carrying out of this program.

Your committee would recommend the adoption of the suggestions contained in these overtures. T. W. SLOAN, Chairman.

The time of the meeting was fixed for Tuesday, October 17th, 7:30 p. m.

This stirring and impressive address was referred to the Chairman of the Local Home Mission Committee to prepare a suitable response.

Porter, Agency-Secretary, spoke of the work of the American Bible Society, and the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That Synod has heard with pleasure the earnest address of Rev. M. B. The following resolution was adopted:

The Synod has heard with great pleasure and profit the strong and instructive address of Rev. Homer McMillan, Assembly's Secretary of Home Missions, on the vital and far-reaching work of the Church in the home-land; and most heartily commends this worthy cause to the liberality of the entire Church. E. E. GILLESPIE.

A report from Rev. Dr. W. S. Bean, Historian of Synod, was received and referred to a committee consisting of Revs. W. B. Arrowood, W. H. Workman and C. F. Rankin. The report, which was amended and adopted as follows:

The Historian appointed by Synod would respectfully report that no material for compiling a history of the Synod of South Carolina has ever been furnished him, and no provision has been made to obtain such material.

It would require—

1. A full set of Minutes of Synod, and of each Presbytery, from the close of Dr. Howe's history to date.

2. Any special sermons, historical sketches, biographies, etc., printed within this period.

3. Published volumes such as Dr. Adger's "My Life and Times" and the papers of Dr. Woodrow published by his family.

To bring these together is beyond the power of one man. The Historian would respectfully suggest that Stated Clerks be authorized to send him complete copies of Minutes, as a loan; that some arrangement be made for expense of postage, expressage, etc., in collecting material. W. S. BEAN.

The Synod had recess till 2:30 p. m.

The Standing Committee on Home Missions presented a report, which was amended as adopted as follows:

The Standing Committee on Home Missions begs leave to submit the following report:

There is nothing in the report of the Executive Committee on Home Missions calling for any action, except the recommendations. We recommend that these be adopted, and that the report be printed in the Appendix to the Synod's Minutes, together with the report of the Superintendent of Home Missions. The Synod records its grateful appreciation of the efficient, self-denying and fruitful labors of Superintendent Rev. G. G. Mayes, assuring him his labors are entirely satisfactory.

Respectfully submitted,
S. C. BYRD, Chairman,
E. E. GILLESPIE,
J. P. McNEILL.

The Committee presented, and Synod adopted, the following:

NARRATIVE.

Your Committee on Narrative would respectfully report that narratives from all our Presbyteries came into our hands. From these we gather the following:

1. With rare exceptions, the attendance upon the services of the sanctuary is good.

2. While family worship is generally neglected, it is refreshing to note that one church reports three-fourths and one Presbytery one-third, as observing family worship.

3. The Sabbath fairly well observed according to the present day conception, with a growing tendency to secularization.

4. Training of the children and youth in the Scriptures and Catechisms is reported as generally good in the Sabbath Schools, while in many of the homes it is sadly neglected. Yet from the reports it would appear that a majority of our families are still faithful in the discharge of this important duty.

5. The reports indicate a healthy growth in the grace of liberality in our churches.

6. With rare exceptions, pastors' salaries are fully and promptly paid.

7. A few churches report special manifestations of the presence and power of the Holy Spirit, but in most cases, while there is a healthy spiritual growth, there has been no special refreshing from on high.

8. Worldly conformity, while existing to some extent in many churches, does not generally prevail.

9. Three of the Narratives make no report of evangelistic work done by the churches outside of their bounds. The other four Presbyteries report a small proportion of their churches doing this work with encouraging results.

10. As to efforts to secure recruits for the gospel ministry, three Presbyteries make no report; two report no special effort made; one reports that a few pastors have preached on the subject; and one reports that thirteen of their pastors have preached "on the call to gospel ministry."

Respectfully submitted,
W. B. ARROWOOD, Chairman,
J. C. SCOTT.

The Stated Clerk of Enoree Presbytery reported that Rev. L. W. Brown had today been received into that Presbytery, and he was accordingly enrolled as a member of this Synod.

It was made the order for 4:30 this afternoon to hear Rev. J. B. Branch, touching the endowment of Thornwell Orphanage.

It was made the order to hear, this evening at the conclusion of the Home Mission Conference, Dr. Dwyer.

The Select Committee made the following report on the report of the Historian of Synod:

Your committee to whom was referred the communication of your Historian, Dr. W. S. Bean, would recommend:

1. That Synod requests the Stated Clerk of Synod, and the Stated Clerks of the Presbyteries, to furnish Dr. Bean, as a loan, complete copies of Minutes of the Synod and Presbyteries since the issue of Dr. Howe's History to date.

2. That our ministers and any others having in their possession special sermons, historical sketches, biographies, etc., bearing on the history of our Synod, be requested to furnish the same as a loan to Dr. Bean.

3. That any expense of carriage or express incurred in gathering material for the proposed history be paid out of Synod's treasury.

W. B. ARROWOOD,
C. F. RANKIN,
Committee.

The Committe on Finance made the following reports:

The Committee on Finance, to which was referred the Treasurer's report and accounts, beg to report that we find the same correct and admirably kept.

We recommend that same assessments be made for the coming year, namely:

|---|---|
| Bethel | $ 75 00 |
| Charleston | 45 00 |
| Enoree | 60 00 |
| Harmony | 35 00 |
| Pee Dee | 25 00 |
| South Carolina | 30 00 |
| Piedmont | 30 00 |
| | $300 00 |

We beg also to report that we have examined the accounts of the Treasurer of Local Home Missions, and find them well kept from 1st January, 1910. Prior to that date we cannot recommend the method of bookkeeping, although the accounts balance. We have no data to verify what was received from churches and individuals, but find the account balances. We earnestly recommend the zeal and energy with which our Superintendent has labored in this great cause, and sincerely hope that Synod will do more in building up the waste places of Zion for the coming year. JOHN McSWEEN.

The Committee on the Minutes of the Assembly made a report, which was adopted as follows:

The Committee on the Minutes of the General Assembly respectfully report that we have examined the same, and deem the following matters deserving of the attention of the Synod:

1. The eighth General Council (page 20).—We recommend that our pastors take notice of this suggestion and give effect to it either upon one of the Sabbaths named or some other Sabbath.

2. The appointment of Dr. R. C. Reed as Fraternal Delegate to the A. R. P. Synod (page 30).—We recommend the adoption of the following resolution: This Synod notes with peculiar gratification the steps taken by the General Assembly looking to closer relations between our Church and the A. R. P. Synod of the South; and would assure our brethren of said Church in this State that the Synod of South Carolina will hail with joy the day when the union suggested by our Assembly can be effected.

3. Invitation to Synod to unite in a co-operative effort, etc. (page 56).

4. Recommendation that each Synod be urged, etc. (page 63).

5. We recommend that at each meeting of this body the Synod appoint a Committee on the Minutes of the Assembly to report to the Synod at its meeting the following year; and on the appearance of the Minutes of the Assembly the Stated Clerk call the attention of said committee to the duty laid upon them.

6. We recommend the adoption of the following resolution:

Lest the action of the last Assembly in the complaint of W. I. Sinnott against the action of the North Alabama Presbytery (see Minutes Assembly, pp. 43-45), come to have the effect and force of a precedent, this Synod feels constrained to place on record its disapproval of said action as in violation of the Constitution of our Church (see Conf. Faith, XXXI, 4), and violative of the protection guaranteed to our humblest member (see Rules Discipline VI, 3).

W. M. McPHEETERS, Chairman.

The following committee was appointed as required above: Rev. Drs. H. A. White and W. T. Hall and Elder T. S. Bryan.

Rev. J. B. Branch, of the Thornwell Orphanage, was heard concerning the endowment of Thornwell Orphanage.

Rev. J. T. Dendy and Rev. G. M. Wilcox were appointed Trustees of Thornwell Orphanage to fill vacancies.

The Committee on the Theological Seminary made a report, and pending its consideration, the Synod took recess until 8 o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

8 p. m.

The Synod engaged in a conference on Local Home Missions, Rev. E. E. Gillespie presiding. After devotional exercises, addresses were made by Elder H. E. Ravenel, Rev. S. C. Caldwell and Rev. G. G. Mayes. Dr. T. A. Dwyer, of the Baptist Church, a recent convert from Roman Catholicism, was also heard, speaking especially on the dangers of Romanism.

The unfinished business was resumed, and the report of the Committee on the Theological Seminary was amended and adopted as follows:

The Standing Committee on the Theological Seminary would respectfully report to the Synod that all papers read in open session by the Secretary of the Board, together with the minutes of the meetings of the body since June 29, 1909, have been placed in our hands.

We find that the minutes have been neatly kept, and correctly so, with the exception that there is no record of the appointment of a committee which waited on Rev. Dr. W. T. Hall in the summer of 1909, and to incidents in connection with which committee's visit reference is subsequently made in Appendix to Minutes of August 10, 1909.

We suggest that Synod request the Board of Directors to insert this matter, in order that the records may be complete.

We rejoice to learn that the work of the Seminary has been prosecuted with an eminent degree of success, to the blessing of our beloved Zion in the instruction of her choice sons for the gospel ministry, and in the graduation last year of a goodly number who have already taken their places in the ranks of the army of the King.

We are further pleased to ascertain that the institution is in a very healthy condition from a financial viewpoint. The Board reports that the accounts of the Treasurer have been carefully audited and found to have been neatly and correctly kept. The efforts of the financial agent have been discontinued as a result of some discouragement arising from the failure of the people to respond, and that matter has been placed by the Board in the hands of the Executive Committee.

Your committee, while recognizing the good motives of the Board and sympathizing with it in its failure to secure a constitutional quorum, would respectfully call attention to the fact that matters have been transacted contrary to the constitutional provisions, and would venture the suggestion that this is liable to have a harmful effect if continued. The spirit of the Board is manifest, however, in its cheerful compliance with the Synod's suggestion that it validate its irregular action in the election of Rev. A. M. Fraser, D. D., of Staunton, Va., to the office of President of the Seminary. We lament with them the fact that their faithful efforts were of no avail in securing his valuable services for the institution.

We note with sorrow that the Seminary has been deprived of the services of Dr. S. M. Smith, professor-elect to one of its chairs, by his apparently untimely death.

It is with sincere regret that we learn of the resignation of Rev. Dr. W. T. Hall from the Chair of Didactic and Polemic Theology, to take effect May, 1911. We are glad to know that the Board has secured him for other work and that his valuable services will not be discontinued, and that the power of his personal influence will be perpetuated in the institution.

We recommend:

1. That Synod approves the plan of the Board of Directors relative to the amendment of Sec. 3 by the addition of Article 12, touching the age limit of professors, as follows:

Resolved, That the controlling Synods be requested to amend the Plan of Government by adding to Sec. 3 an additional Article to be named Art. 12, which shall read:

ART. 12. Whenever a professor shall hereafter become seventy years of age he shall be retired at the close of that scholastic year unless retained in office by an annual election in which he shall receive the votes of a majority of the Board. And when a professor is thus retired the Board is authorized to appropriate to him such annual salary as may be deemed proper.

Resolved, That the Secretary be instructed to send along with the reports to Synod, certified copies of this resolution

2. We recommend the election of Rev. W. J. McKay, D. D., to succeed himself, and Mr. W. H. Townsend, of Columbia, as Directors for a term of three years.

W. H. FRAZER,
Chairman.

The Committee on Leave of Absence made a report as follows, which was approved:

Excused for Tardiness—J. B. Branch, H. W. Cely, F. W. Gregg, W. S. Hamiter, A. W. Leland, B. Harris, S. S. McLahan, J. F. Reid, M. G. Woodworth, R. W. Gaston.

Excused for Absence—R. C. Morrison, J. J. Harrell, Robt. H. Nall, T. P. Burgess.

Leave of Absence After Wednesday Afternoon Session—Y. R. Scruggs, P. W. Major.

After Thursday Morning Session—A. H. Atkins, A. S. Doak, D. M. Fulton, R. L. Grier, T. F. Haney, B. Harris, C. R. Harvin, James Reaves, J. P. Marion, J. L. Strain, H. L. Thomas, A. Walker White, Hugh Witherspoon, W. H. Workman.

After Thursday Afternoon Session—J. B. Branch, W. J. Copeland, J. W. Lafferty, W. P. Jacobs, T. D. Johnston, B. B. Thompson, W. D. Knox, J. D. McDowell, Rev. A. E. Spencer.

Respectfully submitted,
W. S. PORTER,
J. WHITNER REID,
Committee.

The following was adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Synod be tendered to the congregation of Aveleigh Church and the good people of Newberry for the entertainment of the members of the Synod with true Southern hospitality.

Resolved also, That the thanks of the Synod be tendered to the choir for the music which has been so helpful and has added to the interest of our sessions.

The following report was adopted:

Your committee to nominate a committee to arrange a program for College Day to be carried out at the next meeting of the Synod respectfully nominte the following brethren:

As member of the faculty of the Presbyterian College of South Carolina, Vice-President A. E. Spencer and Rev. D. J. Brimm, D. D.; as members of the Board, Revs. Alex. Martin and W. H. Mills and Elder W. H. Townsend.

A motion to instruct the Stated Clerk to have printed in advance, for the use of Synod during its sessions, the reports of its Permanent and Executive Committees, was placed on the docket for the next Synod.

The minutes of today's session were read and approved.

The Synod then adjourned, with singing, prayer, and the apostolic benediction, to meet in the First Church, Clinton, Tuesday, October 17th, 1911, at 7:30 p. m.

GEORGE G. MAYES,

THOS. H. LAW, Stated Clerk. Moderator.

III. Report on Home Missions

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LOCAL HOME MISSIONS.

Your committee acknowledges with gratitude the signal blessing of God upon the work intrusted to its care during the past year. According to the provisions of the new plan of work, the committee met in Columbia in January and elected Rev. E. E. Gillespie chairman, and Rev. G. G. Mayes, secretary. In exercise of the Synodical authority delegated to it, Rev. E. E. Gillispie was elected Synodical Treasurer. Owing to the condition of the treasury, it was deemed best not to employ a general evangelist as provided by the action of Synod. The new plan of work has met with universal favor. The hearty co-operation of all the Presbyteries has meant success during the year that has just closed, and promises greater advancement in evangelism during the ensuing year. Through the energetic efforts of our efficient Superintendent there has been an average increase of over one hundred per cent in the apportionments made for Local Home Missions throughout the Syod.

REVIEW OF PRESBYTERIES.

Bethel.—The Evangelistic work of this Presbytery has been prosecuted with encouraging results. The Presbytery appoints each minister to hold one or more meetings of a week's duration during the year. Nearly all the appointments of the last year were filled. The Christians in the communities visited were strengthened and a number of prsons were brought to Christ. Sixteen churches were aided by the Presbytery to the amount of $975. Rock Hill and Chester are doing work among the cotton mill operatives, expending $1,200 and $700, respectively, in maintaining the work. The Sunday schools are a promising feature of the work.

Charleston.—No evangelistic meetings have been reported as being held in this Presbytery during the last year. Eighteen churches have been aided to the amount of $1,082. An interesting mission work is being conducted at Graniteville among the cotton mill operatives. Charleston Presbytery embraces one-third of the area of the State, and contains only 33 churches. It presents the most inviting field for home mission work within the bounds of the Synod.

Enoree.—Evangelism has been greatly emphasized by this Presbytery. Rev. J. E. Thacker has conducted two meetings, one at Laurens and the other at Spartanburg. A number of meetings have been held by the pastors also with encouraging results.. Aid has been given to six churches to the amount of $250. Three cotton mill missions are maintained at a cost of $280. A rural mission is also supported. The First Church of Spartanburg and the First Church of Clinton maintain congregational missions at an expenditure of $300 and $238, respectively. The laymen of the Presbytery have raised $950 for the purpose of employing an evangelist.

Harmony.—Three protracted meetings have been reported as conducted in this Presbytery with good results. A few churches have been aided, and assistance of $200 was given toward the building of a chapel at Greeleyville.

Pee Dee.—Seven evangelistic meetings have been reported as held during the year, which resulted in 52 professions of faith.

Piedmont.—Ministers were appointed to hold meetings in all mission churches. Seven of these appointments were filled, resulting in 32 additions to the churches. Special mention should be made of the excellent work done by Mr. R. Roy Brown, of Columbia Seminary, at Roberts Church. There were 23 additions to the membership, and the entire church was greatly revived. A mission school was maintained for eight months during the year at Sunset.

South Carolina.—Twelve evangelistic meetings were held within the bounds of this Presbytery, and five churches have been aided to the amount of $400.

SUMMARY.

It will be seen by the above that nearly a score of churches have been aided during the year, and that nearly $6,000 was expended in the assistance rendered. Many of the Presbyteries have laid special emphasis on the evangelistic arm of the church and have made good use of the pastors in the prosecution of their work.

REPORT OF G. G. MAYES, SUPERINTENDENT.

Your Superintendent submits the following report of his personal labors for the nine months in which he has served in this capacity:

GATHERING INFORMATION.

His first and constant effort has been to gather information. To this end he has traveled, he has written, and he has investigated. A meeting was early sought with the Executive Committees of the Presbyteries. With those of Bethel, Enoree, Piedmont, and South Carolina, he was entirely successful. With only the Chairmen and Treasurers of Harmony and Pee Dee, and with only the Chairman of Charleston had he the opportunity to confer before the spring meetings of the Presbyteries. With six of the seven Presbyteries he met in the spring. The plan of work, the program to be followed and the needs of the field were carefully considered.

PRINTED MATTER.

He has had printed in brief form and widely circulated the facts touching the work of Local Home Missions. He has prepared and sent out to all our pastors two sets of circular letters, pleading for their interest in and voice in behalf of the cause committed to his trust.

ACTION OF PRESBYTERIES.

At their spring sessions the Presbyteries, with rare unanimity, agreed to raise the sum of $12,000, being one hundred per cent over that asked for last year, the amount of increase varying with the different ones. This action and the apportionments made were communicated to every church in the Synod, with the request that if the apportionment was too great, the fact be reported at once to the Superintendent. A few churches reported that they would not be able to meet the full apportionment this year. Several reported that they expected to go beyond what was asked of them. The vast majority made no reply, and we understand are holding themselves responsible for the full amount.

VACANT CHURCHES.

The vacant pulpits, of which there have been about forty, have had his attention. To them all he wrote, as they were reported, tendering his help in securing pastors. Nineteen of these churches he visited, preached unto and conferred with. He succeeded in forming six new groups. Induced eight churches to make substantial increase in the amount promised on pastor's salary. The total amount of this increase is about $1,000. Several churches have thus become self-supporting.

MISSION POINTS.

He has given his attention to five mission points. At two of these he found sufficient encouragement to recommend that regular preaching be provided. The conditions do not warrant as much for the other three as yet.

For our one mission school in the mountains he has secured the services of a graduate of Chicora College for the next term. By an arrangement made with the public school trustees by which we get the control of the public funds and building, the school will not cost Piedmont Presbytery more than eighty or ninety dollars.

PASTORS SECURED.

A constant correspondence has been kept up with men outside our bounds to induce them to look upon our vacant fields. He has secured one and a visit from two others, both of whom, it is hoped, will be secured. He has also given much attention to changes within our bounds when asked. The failure here in almost every instance was because of the inadequacy of the salary offered. He has secured the consent of several of our gifted elders to hold services, either in vacant churches, or for the pastors, that they may go to the vacant churches. It is hoped that this will be appreciated by our churches and pastors, and that these men may be more extensively used.

OTHER ACTIVITIES.

In the nine months your Superintendent has preached eighty-five times, held four evangelistic meetings, received three members into the church on profession of faith, and baptized six children. This done in churches without pastors. He has traveled six thousand, six hundred and forty-three miles, at an expense of $140.37. He has received from the churches visited $129.85 toward the defraying of this expense.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

G. G. MAYES, Superintendent.

4. That the Presbyteries of Synod raise for the sustentation and enlargement of the work of Local Home Missions the sum of $12,000.

Respectfully submitted,

E. E. GILLESPIE, Chairman.

VI. Report of the Permanent Committee on Foreign Missions

The great work the Master committed to the church is still recognized as the "Unfinished Task," but the task is being undertaken with ever-increasing interest and signal blessings are bestowed upon the work and the workers in all sections of the world-wide field. It should be our constant prayer that the work may grow and expand till "None shall have occasion to say to his brother, 'Know the Lord,' for all shall know Him from the least to the greatest." The superficial reader of the scriptures sees little in the book on the great subject, except the command of the risen Lord, and this is so much neglected in practice. To those who read little and pray little and contribute little to the cause of world evangelization, there appears little doing; and the reports so frequently issued to the contrary are either questioned or ignored.

The present year doubtless marks the time of greatest interest and effort in behalf of missions, since the days of the apostles. We learn, with thankfulness, that of the missions reporting to our Assembly's Executive Committee, as appears in their last annual report, that 2,560 were added to our churches in the mission field last year. From the Committee's report we learn also that 31 new missionaries were sent out to our various missions for the year ending March, 1910, making the whole number of our foreign missionaries 284.

We are greatly distressed to record the losses mentioned by our Executive Committee. Two deaths were reported from our China mission—one of them had but recently entered on what promised to be a career of extraordinary usefulness, when by a mysterious Providence, he was taken away; and the life of Dr. D. T. Stuart, a young physician, and son of our venerable missionary, Rev. Dr. J. L. Stuart, was ended here. The other one taken by death was, as you all know, our own esteemed and honored brother, Rev. H. C. DuBose, D. D., one of our oldest and most efficient missionaries. Two of our missionaries in Africa withdrew from the work. These are Rev. H. P. Hawkins and Rev. J. E. Phipps.

The "movements" of recent years amongst the young people, the students and the laymen of the church, continue to give us rich promise of great things for the cause. The campaign under the auspices of the Laymen's Missionary Movement throughout our United States last winter and spring culminated in a national congress in Chicago last May. No such assembly of men, in its personnel, its purpose and inspiration, and possible results was ever held on this continent, or any other, probably, with the single exception of the world's convention, which met four weeks later in the city of Edinburgh, which all agree was positively unique in the history of the church.

These conventions have made invaluable contributions to the missionary literature of today, so rich already in this regard. The reports of the Missionary Congress in Chicago are commended with enthusiasm to all who seek knowledge and inspiration on this subject. The volume is of convenient size and printed in large type and will appeal to any reader on sight. Everyone will be benefitted by reading it. The reports of the World's Convention are expected any day. They will make five volumes and will doubtless be the best to be had on the subjects treated. A most excellent volume has lately been issued by our own Committee of Publication, from the pen of our esteemed brother, Rev. H. F. Williams, the editor of The Missionary. This book is called "In Four Continents," and gives the information wanted by all our Missionary Societies and our people generally. We would urge on our brethren and our churches generally as widespread distribution of missionary literature as possible. We would also urge upon our people, old and young, the diligent study of missions, as offered through the introduction of mission study classes. The number of these classes is growing every year, and the enthusiasm they are kindling is seen wherever they have been tried.

The Assembly's Executive Committee makes mention with great interest of the noble work of the women of our church through their 1,794 societies in behalf of missions. The "goal" of the Committee is "A woman's society and a young people's society in every church, and every woman and child in the church a member of the society."

If our churches are to attain to the standard set for us by the General Assembly, we are constrained to believe that some radical measures must be used in some congregations to awaken interest in this cause, and to extend and deepen this interest in other congregations. No minister of the word, whether pastor or supply, can afford, for his own sake or the sake of his people, to neglect to present the responsibility and privilege of the church touching this question. The subject is one so vitally connected with the kingdom of our Lord in this world that a faithful presentation of almost any phase of Christian work will necessitate the mention of it, at least. Yet we fear that many of our congregations hear little about it; and we know that the stream does not usually rise higher than its source.

From the statistics given us through the Assembly's minutes, we note that Bethel Presbytery, with a membership of 6,466, contributed $7,081 to Foreign Missions last year; an average of $1.09 per member. Charleston Presbytery, with a membership of 2,741, contributed $4.815, or $1.75 per member. Enoree Presbytery, with a membership of 5,291, contributed $10,921, or $2.06 per member. Harmony Presbytery, with a membership of 2,918, contributed $3,365, or $1.15 per member. Pee Dee Presbytery, with a membership of 2,377, contributed $3,038, or $1.28 per member. Piedmont Presbytery, with a membership of 2,733, contributed $2,327, or 85 cents per member. And South Carolina Presbytery, with a membership of 2,453, contributed $1,619, or 61 cents per member. In the Synod there are 24,979 members and their contribution was $33,166, or $1.32 per member. In Bethel Presbytery there are 59 churches, nine of these with an aggregate membership of 339, gave nothing to this cause. In Charleston Presbytery there are 33 churches, and 13, aggregating 228 members, gave nothing. In Enoree Presbytery there are 57 churches, and 15, aggregating 442 members. gave nothing. In Harmony Presbytery there are 35 churches and six, aggregating 263 members, gave nothing. In Pee Dee Presbytery there are 29 churches and nine aggregating 296 members, gave nothing. In Piedmont Presbtery there are 35 churches and four, aggregating 149 members, gave nothing. In South Carolina Presbytery there are 30 churches and eight, aggregating 90 members, gave nothing. In the Synod there are 278 churches, and 64, aggregating 1,807 members, gave nothing to the cause of Foreign Missions. Brethren these things ought not so to be. Somebody has incurred a solemn responsibility. We may well ask the question, "Lord is it I?"

ALEX. SPRUNT, Chairman.

V. Report on Ministerial Education and Relief

The Permanent Committee on Ministerial Education and Relief respectfully submits to the Synod of South Carolina this, its annual report.

I

MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

The great need of the Church continues to be the addition of others to the roll of faithful ministers who are trying to carry on the work of the Master in our Zion. It is ours to pray to the Lord of the harvest that He will thrust forth laborers into the harvest, and, as there is a seeming answer to this cry of the Church, it is her duty to provide means for their equipment for the great work to which they are called.

The Assembly's Committee reported to the General Assembly this year that there were 456 candidates for the ministry. The Committee aided 275 candidates last year in the sum of $26,523, which necessitated an overdraft of the account to the amount of $789. Unless there is an enlarged offering to this cause in November, there will be a necessity of reducing the maximum allowance from $100 to $90, and possibly $80. We, therefore, most heartily commend this cause to the liberality of the people.

The attention of the Presbyterial Chairmen is called to the plan of the Committee at Louisville for making loans to those who prefer to give their pledge of return after they shall be settled in fields of labor.

Your Committee sent out blanks to all the Presbyteries, and from the reports thus obtained, we are able to give the following information as to the candidates within the bounds of this body. We have an aggregate of 28 candidates, distributed as follows: Bethel, 7; Charleston, 7; Enoree, 3; Harmony, 4; Pee Dee, 3; Piedmont, 3; South Carolina, 1. They are pursuing their studies in the following institutions: Columbia Theological Seminary, 4; Princeton Seminary, 2; Union Theological Seminary, 1; Austin Theological Seminary, 1; Davidson College, 8; Presbyterian College of South Carolina, 2; Hampden-Sidney, 1.

The Presbyterial Chairmen report that efforts are being made by pastors and churches to lay this great claim of the kingdom of God on the hearts and consciences of the young men of our church. Tracts from the Louisville office have been distributed, sermons have been preached, private conferences have been held in some instances, with the young men, and prayer has ascended to the Lord of the harvest for His designating grace to fall upon our young men. Let us continue to pray. "Ye that are Jehovah's remembrances, take ye no rest and give Him no rest, till He establish, and till He make Jerusalem a praise in the earth." (See recommendations.)

II.

MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

The roll of the beneficiaries from the fund of Ministerial Relief continues to grow. There are now enrolled 53 ministers, 145 widows, and 15 orphans. Does not the Master say to us, "Give ye them to eat?" Our Committee has distributed upon an average to each minister $204, and to each widow and family $127.

The Presbyteries of the Synod of South Carolina, through their churches and church societies have contributed the sum of $2,230, and have drawn out through their recommended beneficiaries $2,180.

We recommend:

1. That Presbyterial Chairmen be asked to lay this important matter upon the hearts of our pastors and sessions and that a determined effort be made to empty the column of non-contributing churches to this cause.

III.

ENDOWMENT FUND.

The General Assembly urges that the Executive Committee make an earnest effort to add to the $294,000 that we have as a handsome nucleus, $206,000 in order that we may reach the half million dollar endowment that is deemed so desirable and so necessary.

The churches in the various Presbyteries of this Synod have given practically nothing during the past year to this cause. We recommend that, through the proper channels, this cause be brought to bear upon the liberality of our people, and that it be urgently presented to the churches on the third Sabbath in November, or the day nearest thereto that is most convenient.

Let us call attention to the fact that plans are now being consummated whereby the offices of Ministerial Education and Relief, Schools and Colleges, and Assembly's Home and School will be merged under the general title of Christian Education and Ministerial Relief. Allow us to suggest that the Synod recast its committees to harmonize with this scheme of the Assembly.

RECOMMENDATIONS AS TO MINISTERIAL EDUCATION.

We recommend:

1. That the Presbyterial Chairmen keep in close touch with the young men in the institutions of learning, and that they be requested to write letters of encouragement and advice as occasion may afford.

2. That the oversight of Presbyterian young men in the State institutions be the concern of every pastor in places where these institutions are maintained, and that whenever feasible the claims of the gospel ministry be presented in the religious services of the students.

3. That the Presbyterial Chairmen impress upon the churches the necessity of observing the first Sabbath of November as a day of prayer and presenting the claims of the ministry.

Respectfully submitted,
W. H. FRAZER, Chairman.

VI. Report of the Permanent Committee of Publication and Sabbath School Work

I. PUBLICATION.

1. Business Department—

This department continues self-sustaining, and makes donations to supplement in the extension work. The sales last year amounted to $164,067, which is a slight increase over the previous year. Of the earnings $2,040 were given to extension work.

2. Extension Work—

This is the missionary work of the Assembly's Committee, and reports indicate increased efficiency and fruitfulness. There were 75 new Sabbath schools established by our Sabbath school missionaries, and two churches organized as immediate fruit of this work. Literature was donated to 517 schools, with an enrollment of over 15,000 scholars. Over 100 schools were assisted in securing libraries. Besides all this, tracts, Bibles, etc., were given in large amounts to the destitute. Contributions to this cause amounted to $20,780, which is an increase over past years. Of this amount this Synod gave $1,569. The work projected for the coming year calls for $31,500, which is an increase over last year's contributions of $11,000.

II. SABBATH SCHOOLS.

We gather from the latest reports that very little change has taken place in our Sabbath schools. We again note that nearly one-third of our churches report no schools. While we recognize that the majority of such churches are small, yet in many instances we find that some have a membership of 50 or more. At glance at the reports will show that these conditions prevail alike in all of the Presbyteries. To overcome this condition in part we would earnestly commend the Home Department Quarterly, which is admirably adapted to a systematic study of the word.

III. YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETIES.

According to the latest reports, there are 104 young people's organizations within our bounds, with a total membership of 2,274. These contributed to all causes $2,374. The Westminster Federation of Young People's Societies held a meeting at Rock Hill during last February, when the Constitution and By-Laws were adopted and officers elected. The federation stands ready to furnish these to any pastor or young people's organization desiring to co-operate.

HUGH R. MURCHISON, Chairman.

VII. Report of the Permanent Committee on the Bible Cause

The work of the American Bible Society the last year has been characterized by unusual expansion along all lines.

First, its financial condition has been greatly strengthened. The $1,000,000 addition to its endowment fund, through the liberal offer of Mrs. Russell Sage, has at length been secured, and this has been followed by a handsome legacy of some $750,000 bequeathed by the late Mr. J. Stuart Kennedy, of New York, and other legacies of no mean value. The treasury has thus been provided with means to prosecute the work such as it has rarely had in the past. This is a matter of sincere gratification, as the society has hitherto been severely cramped in meeting the increasing demands of the great work. We must not, however, imagine that it is now by any means removed from the necessity of our continued contributions; for the work is very large and expensive, and its chief support after all must come from the gifts of the living.

In this connection it is pleasant to note that the contributions of the churches of our Synod, as reported last April, were $1,135, an increase of $94 over those reported the year preceding. And we call special attention to the gratifying fact that in the new schedule of collections arranged by the Assembly's Permanent Committee on Systematic Beneficence, to go into effect next year, a separate month, September, is assigned to the Bible cause, for such churches as continue to use the plan of monthly collections. And we sincerely hope that all our churches which adopt the new and better "Every Member Canvass Plan," recommended by the Committee, will be sure to include, as the Assembly does, this important and noble cause in their system of beneficence.

Second, the distribution of the Bible in our own country has been greatly increased. The society has long appreciated the need of this, but the extreme pressure from heathen lands, where Christ was not known, together with the utterly insufficient means at hand to keep up with the expanding work, has prevented adequate efforts to supply the home field. The last year, however, through the efficient service of the Agency-Secretaries, this domestic work, so imperative now because of the marvelous development of our country and the enormous influx of immigrants from papal and pagan lands, has received special attention and the circulation at home has been largely extended. Systematic endeavor is now being made to reach the destitute of all classes in our own land. For this there is every reason to rejoice, and we ought to assist the good work in every way possible.

Third, the circulation in foreign lands the last year has far exceeded anything in the society's history. The opening fields, the interest in God's word, and the progress of missions, have combined to promote this part of the work. In China, so marvelously awaking to the reception of new things, the issues of the A. B. S. last year doubled, exceeding 1,000,000 volumes. And elsewhere the demand has been met as never before.

Thus, upon the whole, the society reports that its total issues last year, reaching nearly 2,900,000 volumes, were 670,000 volumes in excess of the year previous and 590,000 volumes in excess of any year in its history.

These facts ought greatly to encourage us and make us take hold of this blessed work with renewed interest and zeal.

THOS. H. LAW, Chairman.

VIII. Report on Schools and Colleges

The Committee of Schools and Colleges beg to report:

1. Concerning the Assembly's department of the work: We have no facts to present to you, further than officially to report the action of the last General Assembly, consolidating the Assembly's Committee of Schools and Colleges and the Home and Schools with the Committee of Ministerial Education and Relief.

2. The work of the institutions of our Synod has progressed satisfactorily in the main. Davidson College was successful in its canvass to raise $350,000, and has opened the present session with an increaed number of students. In the growth and development of this institution all rejoice.

The Presbyterian College of South Carolina lost its President by his resignation at the close of last session. The board has not been able, as yet, to secure a successor. Hence, the college is now without a President. It is fortunate, however, to have one in a Vice-President, Mr. Spencer, who has been long connected with the institution, and who is most efficient to control all its internal, administrative affairs.

Mr. Spencer is in charge as the Acting President and everything is moving along well. The opening of the present session has been most encouraging. The enrollment of boarding pupils is the largest for several years, and the Freshman class is the largest in the history of the college. The outlook for a continued increased patronage is bright.

Chicora College has begun its fifth year under the control of the Presbyteries with an unprecedented enrollment. The capacity of the institution has not only been taxed to the utmost to accommodate applicants, but it has been necessary to write to a number of applicants that they could not be accommodated this session, unless some one of the present number of our pupils should have to withdraw.

The Presbyterian High School at Florence, while under the control of the Pee Dee Presbytery, may be brought to your attention. This school has a good property, has been successfully conducted and is prospering. It is highly worthy of patronage.

3. The Synod's Collection for Schools and Colleges. Your Committee asked for and apportioned among the churches the sum of $5,000 this year, as last year. Last year the churches responded to this appeal and gave to this cause the very small sum of $522.10. This year they have given $782.66. You observe that this is a little increase, but the amount contributed is still deplorably small, being only about 15 per cent of the amount asked for and needed.

The report of the Treasurer of this Committee is as follows:

| | Dr. | Cr. |
|---|---|---|
| Oct. 1, 1909, to cash on hand | $ 11 01 | |
| To contributions received | 782 66 | |
| Sept. 30, 1910, by paid P. C. of S. C. | | $522 40 |
| Sept. 30, 1910, by paid Chicora College | | 142 58 |
| Sept. 30, 1910, by paid Davidson College | | 117 58 |
| Cash on hand | | 9 11 |
| Total | $793 67 | $793 67 |

We recommend:

1. That the month of August, 1911, be adopted as the time for the Synodical collection for Schools and Colleges.

2. That that Synod has heard with pleasure the address of Dr. W. E. Boggs, the Assembly's Secretary of Schools and Colleges, and would urge upon its ministers that they have due regard for the spiritual welfare of the youth gathered in the public and private schools and colleges located within the bounds of their pastorates.

Respectfully sumbitted,

S. C. BYRD, Chairman.

IX. Report of Columbia Theological Seminary

1. The work of the Seminary has been carried on with regularity and success.

2. The report of the faculty shows that there were twenty students in the Seminary this year: seven in the Senior class, six in the Middle class, and seven in the Junior class. Diplomas ,conferring the degree of Bachelor of Divinity, were awarded to Daniel M. Clark, William H. Hamilton, Samuel Hutson Hay, John J. Hutchison, and Malcomb J. McLean.

A certificate of proficiency in certain branches of study was granted to John Quincy Wallace.

3. The books and accounts of the Treasurer of the Seminary have been correctly and neatly kept, and show that the financial condition of the institution is healthful. The Financial Agent has been discontinued at his own request, and that whole matter is left in the hands of the Executive Committee of the Seminary.

4. That the action of the Board in electing Dr. A. M. Fraser to a professorship in this institution may be fully understood, the explanatory paper already adopted by the Board is made a part of this report to the controlling Synod. See paper in minutes.

5. That the matter of finding and securing suitable men for the Presidency of the Seminary and the professorship of Didactic and Polemic Theology, be left in the hands of the Executive Committee to report to the Board at its next regular meeting, or sooner, if possible.

B. P. REID, Secretary.

X. Report of Thornwell Orphanage

I am commissioned by the Board of Trustees of the Thornwell Orphanage to make you this report of their work during the year ending September 1, 1910.

The Board cordially recognizes the faithfulness and zeal of the local board, composed of parties resident in Clinton, for their careful attention to all the internal interests of the Orphanage during the interval of our meetings, and also of the matrons and teachers who have discharged their duty to the children with loving patience.

At the recent annual session, action was taken by the Board looking to the extension of the city fire mains through the grounds of the home; they also provided for the introduction of sewerage, making appropriation of the necessary funds from their interest account. They also have authorized the development of the waterpower belonging to the Orphanage at Musgrove Mills from which sufficient power, it is thought, can be developed to supply the home all that is needed for light and mechanical purposes, and to meet the expenses of the same.

The endowment fund was increased by donations to the amount of $4,255. In this connection we call attention of Synod to the offer of a gentleman to give $5,000 to the endowment fund on condition that, by the 31st of December of this year, $20,000 additional be raised. Of this $20,000, $5,000 has already been raised. It seems as if with the encouragement of the Synods, the remaining $15,000 should shortly be obtained. It would be a pity for the institution to lose such a good offer. Mr. Branch has been commissioned by the Board to secure this amount without interfering with the regular support of the home.

The plant of the institution has been improved by the erection of the Hollingsworth Home for Boys at a cost of $3,500, the most of this sum having been contributed by Mrs. M. A. Hollingsworth, of Pickens county. A residence has been erected for Mr. Branch on Centennial street, which street passes through the Orphaage premises. The farm has been improved by the erection of a silo and silo house, fitted up with a seven horsepower motor and with an ensilage cutter. Mr. Branch has secured $1,100 from friends in Florida toward the erection of a Florida cottage. This cottage will cost about $3,500 when completed.

The total receipts for the support fund was $29,907.98, which was expended for the support of 318 children, that being the enrollment for the year.

The school has been improved by the addition of a tenth grade in the high school department; by the presentation of certificates of graduation to pupils completing these ten grades; and by the acceptance of the collegiate department as a college under the State laws with right to give its girl graduates the degree of Licentiate of Instruction, this carrying permission to teach in the public schools of the State without further examination.

We are pleased to report uninterrupted good health on the part of the pupils, no death having occurred among them for six years.

We ask that the Synod continue to encourage its churches to give the Orphanage their loving support. In the ensuing year our numbers will be increased by the opening of the new cottage. No special day is appointed for any church collections, but we look for Thanksgiving collections from the churches, and if the plan adopted in other Synods of collections sometime in June or July to meet summer necessities could be generally adopted in this Synod, it would be a great relief to the treasury. We do not at all ask that the Synod appoint these days, but we hope that the necessity will appeal to the hearts of the pastors and people.

We gratefully thank God for His continued favors, and we thank the brethren for their hearty and generous support.

Asking your prayers for these fatherless wards of yours, I am,

Yours faithfully in behalf of the Board,

W. P. JACOBS.

XI. Memorials

REV. B. G. CLIFFORD, PH. D., D. D.

Branch Greenleaf Clifford was born at Haverhill, N. H., Dec. 1, 1843. His parents removed to Salisbury, N. C., in 1857, where his early education was continued until the beginning of the Confederate War in 1861. Heartily espousing the cause of his adopted State, while yet a youth he volunteered in her service, joining the 23rd N. C. Regiment, and served faithfully until the close of the war. He then returned to his former home at Salisbury, and did such work as he could find to aid in his support, resuming at the same time his preparation for college. In 1867 he entered the Sophomore class in Davidson College, and was graduated from that institution in the class of 1870.

Persuaded of his call to the gospel ministry, he was received as a candidate under care of Concord Presbytery in 1868; and having repaired to Union Theological Seminary, Virginia, at the conclusion of his college course, he was licensed as a probationer by the same Presbytery in April, 1872. The following winter, before quite completing his seminary course, he removed to Reidville, S. C., where he taught in the female college at that place. The next year, having been elected principal of the Male Academy at Union, S. C., he entered upon his long career as a teacher in that town, to which he chiefly devoted the remainder of his useful life. In 1881, leaving the town academy, he and his wife, also a professional teacher, began a private school for boarding and day pupils, which three years later developed into and was chartered as "The Clifford Female Seminary," where many young ladies were economically and carefully educated under the direct supervision and instruction of these faithful and devoted teachers.

In connection with his educational work, Dr. Clifford, having been ordained to the full work of the ministry by Bethel Presbytery in 1876, also supplied the pulpit of the church at Union for twelve years, and ministered to several feeble churches in that county as long as health and strength permitted. But his main service in life was that of an educator of young women, from which the Master called him, after several years of failing health and increasing feebleness, January 5th, 1910. Four days later his body was tenderly laid to rest in the city cemetery, near the spot where, in the old Presbyterian Church, he had for so many years preached the gospel.

Dr. Clifford was a man of modest and retiring disposition, of unflagging industry and energy, and of simple and economical habits. He made little display in the pulpit, in the school room, or in society; but in his own quiet way sought ever to do his duty humbly and faithfully as the Lord gave him opportunity. His diligence and worth were recognized by the degrees of A. M. from his alma mater, Ph. D. from the Alabama State Normal College, and D. D. from the Presbyterian College of South Carolina.

In January, 1874, he was married to Miss Mary C. Scofield, of Davidson, N. C., an associate of his college days, who proved to him a congenial and efficient helper in all his work, and who survives him, together with one son and one daughter.

Committee.

REV. HAMPDEN C. DuBOSE, D. D.

Hampden Coit DuBose was born in Darlington District, S. C., September 30th, 1845, and died in Soochow, China, March 22nd, 1910, in the sixty-fifth year of his age.

The law of heredity endowed him with the fine, heroic attributes of Huguenot blood.

His father, the Rev. Julius J. DuBose, a member of the second class to graduate from Columbia Theological Seminary, died in 1852. Thus, at the tender age of seven, the lad was left fatherless. His mother, who was Margaret E. Thompson, of South Carolina, a woman of strong character, fine intelligence and deep piety, is said to have instilled into the heart of her child a personal interest in missions, and encouraged in him little habits of self-denial that he might contribute to that great cause.

It is said by an intimate friend of his youth that from early childhood it was his purpose to spend his life in missionary labor. Another friend of his youth says, "He was the best boy I ever saw—a pattern of filial devotion, always cheerful, courteous, chivalrous, patient and painstaking, the pride of his mother."

He was one of six children of whom only one, Rev. R. Means DuBose, of Gallatin, Tenn., survives him.

After a period of training in the Military Academy of his native State, he entered the University of South Carolina, from which he was graduated in 1868. His theological studies were pursued in Columbia Theological Seminary, where he graduated in 1871. While a student he did valuable missionary work in the counties of Chesterfield and Williamsburg, and filled the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church of Charleston during his last vacation.

He united with Darlington Presbyterian church March 31st, 1858, when 13 ears old. He was taken under care of the Presbytery of Harmony as a candidate for the ministry April 9, 1868.

He was licensed to preach the gospel by the Presbytery of Harmony April 7, 1870, and he was ordained an evangelist by the same body at Darlington, S. C., on the 8th of April, 1871.

The venerable Dr. William S. Plumer preached the requisite sermon, and the great Missionary Secretary, Dr. J. L. Wilson, delivered the charge to the young missionary.

On April 3rd, 1872, he married Miss Pauline McAlpine, of Talladega, Ala., and the next day he started for his life work in the "Middle Kingdom."

In that benighted land they unitedly labored for 38 years with unflagging zeal and eminent success, until he was called up higher. Two sweet babies and a noble daughter, Mrs. Pauline DuBose Little, who died a young missionary in China, preceded him into the Heavenly City.

His sorely stricken wife and the following children survive, viz: Mrs. Nettie DuBose Junkin, of Suchien, China; Rev. Palmer C. DuBose, of Soochow, China; Rev. Warner H. DuBose, of Fort Morgan, Colorado, and Pierre W. DuBose, a candidate for the ministry now at Davidson College, all serving the Lord as active or prospective ministers or missionaries.

And so this noble man consecrated not only himself but his whole household to the service of his Master in the missionary field. "He rests from his labors, but his works follow him."

The theatre of his personal ministry was Soochow. When he first knocked at her gates she denied him entrance, and for a time he was forced to sleep on his boat upon one of her eight hundred canals, yet he lived to become one of the best known and most honored residents.

In the home land, his brethren delighted to "honor him for his works' sake." He was made Moderator of the Synod of South Carolina in 1890, and was chosen Moderator of the memorable General Assembly which sat in Birmingham in 1891.

The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Westminster College, Missouri, and by Davidson College, North Carolina. But the tremendous force of his influence was felt most in the "Celestial Empire." At a meeting of the Soochow Missionary Association, Rev. Donald McGilvary said of him, "In the history of missions in Soochow, it will be found that Soochow's greatest gift to China was the late Dr. DuBose."

Mr. William T. Ellis, who has been a close student, at first hand, of modern missions and methods, has said of him, "Dr. DuBose was one of those rare Americans whose greatness is more fully realized abroad than at home. Probably not one intelligent man in a thousand in this country knew that at the forefront of the anti-opium crusade in China—which is, perhaps, the greatest moral reform in human history—was an American man, an ex-Confederate soldier, and a member of the Southern Presbyterian Church. To tell the story of Dr. DuBose's work as President of the Anti-Opium League would be to write a book upon this wonderful reform which has caused the informed world to stand at gaze. But the work of Hampden C. DuBose was unique in that the power he has exerted came not at all from official position. It was entirely the creation of his own personality and individual effort."

When we learn that in consequence of these heroic efforts to free a great people from their most grievous bondage, between one and two million opium dens have been removed—seven thousand in one city alone—and that during this year two-thirds of the area hitherto devoted to the culture of the poppy, will produce none, it would seem that the spirit of world-wide philanthropy might well weave its most fragrant chaplet for the bier of this altruistic stranger, who, in a hostile land, fought his knightly battle against tremendous odds all but alone, and almost single-handed won out for God and humanity.

The great preacher, evangelist, educator, colporteur and reformer did not allow his pen to rust. In the Chinese language he wrote "The Street Chapel Pulpit," which was widely read, studied and reproduced by workers throughout the 18 provinces; "The Catechism of Three Religions," commentaries on various books of the Bible (being part of what is known as the "Conference Commentary;") "A Work on Apologetics," (his last completed book), together with various tracts, and a multiplicity of articles published in China in connection with the opium crusade. And when his prolific pen was arrested by death, he was engaged upon an exhaustive work upon "Systematic Theology" in Chinese.

His best known works in English are the "Image, Dragon and Demon," "Preaching in Sinim," "Beautiful Soo," and the "Memoirs of Dr. J. Leighton Wilson."

Thirty years ago the venerable Dr. William S. Plumer one day remarked to a class of theological students, "There is a young man in China who, perhaps, is today doing more good for the cause of Christ with his pen than any man in the Southern Presbyterian Church, and that man is Hampden DuBose." Ceaselessly he echoed in the dull ear of the church the piteous wail of earth's perishing millions. As with a trumpet blast, he urged the church through all its borders to obey the last command of her King and go forth to the great emprize of proclaiming the glad tidings to every creature. And it was touching to hear his pathetic pleading for China in particular. Though for many weary years, from that little street chapel and the banks of the Grand Canal, he seemed to prophesy to dull ears, yet he never despaired, never ceased to believe that in God's good time that mighty nation with its teeming millions would awaken and sit up and take notice. And God mercifully spared him to witness the nation's religious and moral day-break, to reap, at least, some of the precious first-fruits of the good seed he had sown so abundantly and so widely.

One who is "wise to discern the signs of the times" and skilled to fix the metes of real greatness and to rate at its true worth a noble service to God, and to man, has said: "So this daring and chivalrous soldier of a great ideal lived to see the approach of the consummation of the noblest ministry a white man ever rendered to China."

Well may we, his brethren, embalm his name with this memorial service, for "a prince and a great man in Israel is fallen this day."

W. J. McKAY, Chairman.

REV. SAMUEL MACON SMITH, D. D.

Born at Hampden Sidney, Va., July 25, 1851; died at Columbia, S. C., January 10, 1910.

A memorial is not a eulogy; neither is it an inane skeletonized biography—a mere register of names, dates, and the sequence of events. Perhaps it may be said to be an effort to define for our own benefit, and to perpetuate for the benefit of others, the significance of a personality with whom for a season we have been privileged to associate. God, in His good providence, brings us for a time into close and varied relations with one or another of His children, and then calls from us our fellow-laborer. Under such circumstances it is fitting that we pause for a moment—as we do this morning—and ask ourselves, What has been, or what should be the significance for ourselves and for others of the personality which for a longer or a shorter time has moved in and out among us. Before the lapse of time and the necessary cares of other things have bleared them and rendered them indistinct or incoherent, we seek to give sharpness and finiteness of outline to the lineaments of such a personality, and thus both fix them in our own memories and also perpetuate them for the benefit of those who are to come after us.

In the present case, for instance, many of those who hear, or who shall read this paper themselves, knew Samuel Macon Smith himself. In every such case, no doubt, one aspect or another of his vital and virile personality has already photographed itself indelibly upon their minds. In the days to come they will, with their mind's eye, see him again and again as he appeared before them on this occasion or that; either in the sacred desk, or on the floor of Presbytery or Synod, or in the social circle, or in the freedom of his study. I myself certainly carry within my memory, as it were, a whole album full of such pictures. Some of them, by their piquant quaintness, will never fail to provoke a smile; while others of them will be an unfailing challenge and inspiration to worthy, manly Christian living. And if it were only possible, by some process of mental photography, to secure a composite picture of our departed friend and brother, embodying that that is most characteristic and worthiest in our several mental photographs—whether merely snapshots or time exposures—that would be his most adequate and best memorial. For through such a picture hung upon the walls of memory, or framed and placed where all could see it, the influence that he exerted while among us would, in a measure at least, make itself constantly felt. But who shall furnish it? For myself, the very fact hat for twenty years or more I was privileged to live upon terms of closest, kindliest intimacy with him only makes me the more sensible of my inability to perform the service that I have been asked to render. Aware myself of how much the personality of Samuel Macon Smith has meant for my own life, it would be neither possible, proper, nor profitable for me to enter upon that matter in a paper like the present. It is permissible, I trust,—and it is enough—for me simply to make my cheerful and grateful acknowledgement of my debt.

Without then attempting anything like a pen portrait of Dr. Smith, I shall content myself with placing before you some of those traits in his character which, in my judgment, contributed to make him the potent and wholesome influence that he was.

I do not now refer to his mental endowments. These were indeed of a high order. His mental vision was penetrating, discriminating and comprehensive in its range; his mental grasp was firm and strong; his mental processes were clear and orderly. These qualities were constantly in evidence, and gave to Dr. Smith a commanding influence, not only in the pulpit and upon the floor of our Church courts, but wherever he mingled with men. Ineded, they attracted to themselves even a disproportionate amount of the attention of men generally. Nothing was more common than to hear him spoken of as a "brainy man," or a "brilliant man," And such he unquestionably was.

Nor again, do I refer to Dr. Smith's scholastic attainments, nor to his distinguished abilities as a writer and as a speaker. These are well known, and were greatly and justly admired. He was a master of a lucid style and had at his easy command a rich and varied vocabulary which he used with consummate skill and taste. His ideals of what was properly required of a public speaker were high and he spared himself no pains to make his performances correspond with his ideals. Consequently, he was always assured of an appreciative audience.

Now it is not unatural that the qualities thus far mentioned should—as I have already intimated was the case—usurp to themselves a disproportionate amount of the attention and the admiration of the casual and the superficial observer. But unless I am greatly mistaken they were by no means the really distinguishing features of Dr. Smith's personality, nor were they really his noblest gifts. If I were asked to mention the latter I should, without hesitation, mention as among them the following:

First, an unaffected simplicity. This characteristic quality of all the truly great, Dr. Smith possessed in a marked degree. It made him love children and animals. It kept him in close touch with reality. It made him hate shams of all sorts. It gave him a keen, sometimes an almost cruel, delight in puncturing the illusions with which some, unfortunately, delight to surround themselves. It gave him a clearness of vision that enabled him to see the essential excellence in many plain folk toward whom others, with his endowments and acquirements, might have permitted themselves to assume a condescending or a supercilious attitude. It kept him from being himself artificial or conventional. It made it impossible for him to pose or or attitudinize.

Again, he was direct and streightforward and hence dependable. If you did not really wish to know his opinion about a matter, your wisdom was not to ask for it. He would brush aside, sometimes ruthlessly, brush aside indirections, evasions and paltering with an issue and would present it in its stark, yes, occasionally, its startling nakedness. Men called him brusque; but they knew that they could trust him. And they did trust him.

Once more, he was sturdily independent. A whole roomful might be sneezing; but not he, unless he had taken snuff out of his own box. He was strongly averse to being brought under obligations to men, by becoming a too easy recipient of their favors. He was no sponge to absorb everything absorbable within his reach. Like Daniel, he could say with self-respecting dignity: "The gifts be to thyself, O King."

It follows naturally, from what has just been said, that he was eminently free of a spirit of self-seeking. He was not oblivious of, nor was he indifferent to, the opportunities that go with positions of commanding influence. But he not only did not covet mere notoriety, he did not restlessly seek great things for himself. On the contrary, he quietly put away from himself many flattering overtures that a weaker man would foolishly have eagerly embraced. Indeed, it was only to a few of his intimate friends that he mentioned the fact that he had had a call to this position or to that. Barring one year, during which he did the work of an evangelist, his entire ministry of 34 years was spent, not from necessity, but from choice, in just two charges. He was 12 years at Washington, N. C., and 21 years at Columbia, S. C.

Closely connected with the trait just mentioned, were three others that helped to make Dr. Smith the man that he was. I refer now to his admirable self-knowledge, self-discipline and self-control. He knew that he could do some things well, and at times gave expression to this knowledge with a naive frankness that many mistook for self-conceit. But he also knew his limitations. And this knowledge, though he did not wear it on his sleeve, deterred him from attempting many things into which another with a less discriminating self-knowledge would have plunged with an excess of self-confidence. This self-knowledge saved him from many painful humiliations and enabled him to do well what he was willing to do at all. Like every great fighter in the world's battles, Dr. Smith could stand a large amount of what is called "punishment." Yes, though he by no means relished it, nor was likely to permit him who attempted to administer it to go scot-free, he could stand it, and could profit by it. His self-control enabled him to do the one, and his self-discipline to do the other.

But it is time for me to conclude this part of my paper. I cannot do so, however, without in a word alluding to just two other traits of our beloved friend and brother.

One of these was his love of originality and the value that he set upon it. And what a fine tang of individuality there was about him. He was never flat, stale, nor insipid. Even his foibles and imperfections served to give a pleasing uniqueness to his character as a whole. He was no echo; but amid the babel of confused sounds that strike the ear, his was a voice with a timbre of its own and a note clear, distinct and true.

And last, but not least, he had a gentle and tender heart. His manner was not always gentle; neither was his speech always gracious. He was sometimes brusque in manner and caustic in his comments upon men and conduct. But I say again, he had a gentle and tender heart. This showed itself especially in his prayers, and in his ministrations in the sick room, and to the bereaved. He was not an emotional man, and, as I have said, he had a fine self-control. But I have heard his voice break in prayer and have seen his eyes overflow with tears—tears that well up from a heart surcharged with pain for other's griefs. Yes, let me say it once more, he had a gentle and tender heart, for this it was that constituted a crown of beauty to his strength. And so it was that when he was himself cut down—untimely, as we say—in the very midst of his fruitful manhood, many eyes were wet with tears and many hearts felt themselves bereaved.

I have not felt it important in this paper to go into any details about the parentage and the family life of Dr. Smith. And yet without at least a word upon these points this paper would be incomplete.

We do well, then, to remind ourselves that Dr. Smith was a son of the manse. He was the fine product of a home in which culture and piety were happily combined. His mother, whose maiden name was Catherine Malvina Miller, died while he was yet but an infant. I never remember having heard Dr. Smith refer to her but once. What he said on that occasion has long since passed from my memory; but very fresh and vivid is my recollection of the tenderness and respect that characterized his words and his manner. Of his father, the beloved and honored Dr. Jacob Henry Smith,—for 40 years pastor of the church at Greensboro, N. C.,—he delighted to speak, and what he had to say was always creditable alike to father and to son; it brought before us a father of whom any son might justly be proud, and a son capable of appreciating to the full such a father.

Soon after leaving the seminary, Dr. Smith was married to Miss Ella Friend Daniel, of "Ingleside," Charlotte county, Va. Mr. John W. Daniel, the father of Mrs. Smith, was a leading planter of that section of Virginia, and a member of the distinguished family of that name. This beloved companion of his pilgrimage, and partner of his labors, and their only child, a son of much promise, survive to mourn his loss.

REV. A. A. JAMES.

In the heavy requisition which the messenger of death has laid upon our Synod since its last meeting, it has pleased the Great Head of the Church to remove from the sphere of his earthly labors and the sufferings of the flesh, the Rev. A. A. James, the senior member of this body. The Synod would, therefore, put on record the following memorial of his life and services:

Albert Allison James was born at Yorkville, S. C., July 26, 1824. In early life he fell under the tutorage of those Godly educators, Rev. Ferdinand Jacobs, D. D., and Rev. Pierpont E. Bishop, as both pastors and teachers, and while yet a youth made profession of faith in Christ and had his attention directed to the gospel ministry. In 1846 he entered the junior class of Davidson College, and was graduated with the highest honors in 1848. The same year he began his theological studies in Columbia Seminary, where he completed the course in 1851. Always industrious and economical, he worked during his vacations to help in his education, and in this way developed habits which followed him through life.

Having been licensed to preach by Bethel Presbytery in 1851, immediately upon his graduation at the Seminary, he accepted an invitation from Fairforest Church, in Union District, S. C., and entered upon his work there in July, 1851. In November following, he was ordained and installed the pastor of this church, which relation continued uninterruptedly through nearly 59 years of faithful, efficient and devoted service, and was dissolved by his death in the 86th year of his age, in his home at Pacolet, June 3, 1910.

In connection with Fairforest Church, he also supplied the pulpit of Spartanburg Church for three and a half years, and later was the pastor of Grindal Shoals, Mt. Calvary, and Glenn Springs Churches, and at times the supply of Salem, Enoree, Jonesville Pacolet, and Trough Shoals Churches, most of them having been organized through his labors. During the Confederate War he was the chaplain of the 18th South Carolina Regiment, which he served arduously and acceptably until the end of the great struggle. Thus his whole unusually long ministry, with the exception of his temporary absence in the army, was spent in one field. All offers of removal were declined, and with labors continuous and abundant, he planted and developed Presbyterianism throughout that section, sowed the seeds of Divine truth among all classes, and retained to the last, as one generation after another came forward, the unbounded affection, confidence and esteem of all among whom he lived and labored. The congregations which he served during these long years seemed to desire no other minister, and the people with whom he associated loved and revered him as no other man. During the last ten months of his life, when he was laid aside from work and confined to his home in feebleness and suffering, widespread interest and tenderest sympathy were shown from every side; and at his burial in the city cemetery at Union, beside the graves of two deceased sons, on the 5th of June, a large concourse of friends assembled, and all felt that we had lost in him one who, like Barnabas, "Was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith."

This remarkable career of one thus clearly stamped as a remarkable man, was characterized by great simplicity of life, humility of spirit, cheerfulness of temper, unselfishness of motive, fidelity to duty, patience in trial and devotion to those whom he served. He sought no worldly honors or emoluments, he was not ambitious for the praise of men, or even for distinction in the church; but ever strove in his own modest, unpretentious way, to do faithfully the work which God appointed him. And at the end, his genuine worth and eminent fidelity received its due reward in the loving encomiums of a devoted flock and a host of admiring friends; and, we confidently believe, in the translation to a higher, larger sphere of service in the kingdom above, by the Sovereign Lord, who abundantly recompenses His good and faithful servants.

Brother James was a diligent and useful Presbyter, a regular attendant upon the church courts, faithful in the discharge of any duties imposed upon him, and was the Moderator of this Synod at its sessions at Lancaster in 1898.

While serving the church in Spartanburg, he was married on the 13th of September, 1853, to Miss Sarah M. Collins, of that town, who still survives him after nearly 57 years of happy wedded life; and three sons and a daughter also remain to cherish the memory of a Godly father, and enjoy the priceless heritage which he has left them of "A good name, rather to be chosen than great riches."
